Description

This Japanese carved table could well be by Liberty & Co but as its not stamped or have a plaque or a label I cannot say for certain if its by Liberty. The table is of a very nice quality and slightly larger in size than most other tables of the same design, which makes it perfect for a bedside table or for a hallway etc. You will find the quality of the carving of the foliate on the top and legs is done extreme well. This is an octagonal table which stands on four cabriole legs with a lower tier. It also has great colour and is in great condition. Free delivery to mainland England and Wales only.
